This was an opportunity for A.R.T. members to meet the Board, for some conversation about the upcoming year,…

Ghosts of the Elevated the Elevated Railroads Walking Tour:
On the (slightly damp) morning of October 10 members joined us for a walking tour of lower Manhattan with Bowery Boys Tours following long-lost elevated railroad lines! Our tour guide was train enthusiast Michael Morgenthal who guided us along former downtown sections of the 2nd Avenue and 3rd Avenue Elevated Railroads, as well as the trains that ran across the Brooklyn Bridge until 1940. The tour traveled through lower Manhattan, Chinatown and the Lower East Side, examining the remains of former railroads and discussing the problems that the "Els" helped solve, and those they caused, from their inception in 1867.
